

Create a miamapo map in geoCapture

In geoCapture, you can create your own miamapo maps based on Google Maps. These maps will be directly associated with your projects.

If you are not yet registered for miamapo, geoCapture will automatically guide you through the registration process and start the free trial period.

You can create miamapo maps directly within a project or task. To do this, go to the "Projects" section and open the project by double-clicking on it.

Select the "Documents" tab and add a new document.
